

ABOVE: The living area spills out to the patio and swimming pool. Full-height sliding doors of reflective glass provide sweeping views out and limit views in.

RIGHT: Inside, Horma crafted bespoke millwork in cherrywood and maple, with circular cut-outs in lieu of hardware. Dining table by Porro; chairs by MDF Italia; lighting by Marset (over dining table) and Davide Groppi.

OPPOSITE: A spiral stair wrapped in metal mesh leads down to an internal courtyard adjacent the basement.
